DEAR FRIENDS...

The Oklahoma City Philharmonic’s 25th Anniversary Season was a resounding success, and I am grateful to everyone who helped the orchestra reach this milestone. Since the orchestra’s inception in 1988, the artistic quality of our performances has continued to rise, our education programs have found new and innovative ways to serve more people of all ages, and audiences have maintained their commitment through strong ticket sales and contributions.

To celebrate our special season, the Philharmonic hosted celebratory receptions prior to our first Classics and Pops concerts, and the lobby featured a historical photo retrospective of the Oklahoma City’s professional orchestras beginning in 1924. A special presentation of Pink Martini outside of our regular concert season catered to new and younger audiences, and along with the free Red, White and Boom! performance, helped to ensure that our programming was available for the entire community. A Gala Dinner in the Civic Center Hall of Mirrors before the Yo-Yo Ma concert wrapped up the season and included the presentation of long-unseen video footage of orchestras from Oklahoma City’s past. Concert attendance was robust, and the buzz around the season was felt throughout the community.

To everyone who made this special year possible, thank you. I am grateful to you all, including our longtime music director, Maestro Joel Levine, the talented musicians of the orchestra, everyone who purchased a ticket or season subscription, for all individuals, corporations and foundations that made a gift to the orchestra, and to our committed board of directors and staff. You have helped us reach our 25th Season with an accomplished past and an even brighter future.
MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Kip Welch
Oklahoma Philharmonic Society, Inc.
2013 - 2014 Board of Directors,
PRESIDENT

It was my great honor to serve as President of the Oklahoma City Philharmonic during its very successful 25th Anniversary Season. The 2013-2014 Season was an absolute joy for me! Working alongside the Philharmonic’s dedicated Board, staff and volunteers was a true pleasure. I also had the unique opportunity as President to personally greet, thank and get to know a number of the Philharmonic’s donors who so faithfully support this organization’s mission.

Most importantly during my tenure as President I had the immense joy of witnessing first-hand the #1 reason for the Philharmonic’s ongoing success — the Philharmonic fulfills its mission of providing inspiration and joy to the community through orchestral music!

I attended the Classics and Pops Series, enjoying some of the world’s most talented musicians. I was moved just seeing our audience lifted while listening to Yo-Yo Ma and was thrilled to see both our regular audience as well as an infusion of new attendees from around the state who were inspired by The Christmas Show. I felt a part of something very special in our community as I watched Maestro Joel Levine and the very gifted musicians and guest artists performing, entertaining, and making us all want more music in our lives. I was amazed as I witnessed the orchestra’s free education programs at work reaching out to our school children and then participated myself in a program for adults who wanted to learn to play an instrument. I saw the community come together in celebration of Independence Day at the Philharmonic’s popular Red, White and Boom! Concert on July 3rd. I saw the thrill in the faces of those who experienced the orchestra’s performances with Canterbury Choral Society and the Oklahoma City Ballet.

I humbly acknowledge the contributions of our Oklahoma City Orchestra League, whose purpose is to stimulate interest in orchestral music, collaborate with and help to support the Philharmonic’s many programs. I’m grateful to have had the support of an outstanding Associate Board that works so hard in promoting our community, culture and connectivity resulting in achieving great strides in promoting audience development and fund-raising endeavors.

I was very fortunate to be given this opportunity to serve as President of such a successful and respected organization in our state. With every performance, program or event I attended, I received another precious gift of music straight from the heart of our own community’s orchestra!

I want to convey my sincere thank you to everyone who had a part in making the 25th Anniversary of the Oklahoma City Philharmonic one of the most memorable times in my life. I am both proud and extremely grateful to have shared this experience with you.
